

COLLINGWOOD YARDS

Support:

What is Collingwood Yards?

Collingwood Yards exists as a permanent space for artists, art organisations and the public in the heart of Melbourne.

The precinct is operated by Contemporary Arts Precincts Ltd, an independent not-for-profit without recurrent government funding. Our unique model generates income to support our day-to-day operations, our small team and the care of our precinct. It means we're able to keep artists, not-for-profit organisations, First Nations artists and organisations situated in this neighbourhood by delivering subsidised and stabilised rents.

As costs increase our capacity to continue to deliver the above is more important and urgent than ever. This year we are asking our supporters to join us in raising funds to safeguard the maintenance of our heritage listed buildings, public space and public artworks in perpetuity, and to ensure the ongoing support that artists and arts organisations desperately need. Subsidised tenants make up 83% of our community. Your donation will ensure that we can deliver this vital support now and into the future.

Please consider making a donation to Collingwood Yards this year.

You can support Collingwood Yards through individual giving, bequests and corporate partnerships. Contemporary Arts Precincts Ltd, is a charitable entity with DGR status. This means that all donations over $2 are tax-deductible. If you wish to have a conversation with our team about supporting the organisation, please reply to this newsletter.

Tenant news:

Welcome Common Ground to Collingwood Yards

Common Ground is a collective of First Nations people changing systems through storytelling. A not-for-profit, they work on unique and impactful content and projects that centre First Nations storytellers and communities in innovative ways - bringing knowledge as old as time into schools, digital spaces and beyond.

They are looking for an Operations and Community Manager. This position is for a First Nations person based in Naarm. More information here.

You can find Common Ground in the Johnston Street building, next to the Collingwood Yards office.

Tenant profile:

In conversation with Audrey Pfister

un Projects publishes writing that emerges from art making, providing an independent platform for critical discussions about local artistic practice. With a focus on artists, writers and independent practice, un Projects publishes essays, artists' work and reviews, in print and online.

un Projects have recently moved into Collingwood Yards as sub-tenants at West Space gallery. We spoke to General Manager, Audrey Pfister about what's coming up for un Projects and what it means to them to be at Collingwood Yards.

Collingwood Yards, where creativity and community meet.
Support and donate here.

Collingwood Yards acknowledges the traditional owners and sovereign custodians of the land on which Collingwood Yards is situated, the Wurundjeri people of the Woiwurrung language group. We extend our respects to their Ancestors and all First Peoples and Elders past, present, and future.

We celebrate that Collingwood has always been a place of great cultural significance to First Peoples, particularly artists and musicians, and acknowledge the vital role that these communities continue to play in the cultural life of Collingwood.
